THEIR LINGERIE

Democrats in House Occupy Much Time in Washing Linen.

WILLIAMS'S LEADERSHIP IS BITTERLY DENOUNCED

Shackleford Declares He Will No More Be Ruled by a Boss.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.-The "wash ing of Democratic linen for the amuse ment of Republicans," as Mr. Williams, the minority lender, put it Monday, oc the minority leader, put it Monday, occupied the attention of the House for more than four hours today. The result accomplished was a "defi" thrown at the minority leader by Representative Lamar of Florida, and another by Representative Shackleford of Missouri. The complaint of both resulted from the failure of Mr. Williams to recommend their re-appointment as members of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

Mr. Williams Explains.

Both made long speeches in which Mr. Williams's leadership was assailed from many points. Mr. Williams replied to Mr. Lamar at some length and briefly to Mr. Shackleford. His defense was that last session the Democrats on this committee were divided and he deemed it necessary for the good of the party and the country that a united minority report should be made son the subject of railroad legislation. Lamar Very Bitter.

At times there was high tension in the debate. Mr. Lamar was particularly bitter in his criticism and openly declared that his heretofore personal friendship for Mr. Williams was forever at an end unless the criticism of himself were retracted. He, however, would recognize Mr. Williams as the party leader. Denounces All Bosses.

Mr. Shackleford denounced all bosses and placed himself entirely independent of party leadership in the House. The subject under discussion was the committee distribution of the annual message of President Roosevelt. At the conclusion of the Democratic debate this had not been accomplished and the House adjourned.

THREE SALT LAKERS HEIRS TO BIG ESTATE

Harry Lane and Sisters Will Entire Police Force Sent Out to Receive Property Valued at Thousands.

A bit of good fortune, the story of Harry Lane and his sisters, the Misses Ethel and Vera Lane, all well known here, were made almost the sole heirs to the large estate of the late Hillhouse Raymond of Virginia City, Nev., valued at many thousands of dollars.

Took to Young Lane.

Took to Young Lane.

When a lad of fifteen summers, Harry Lane, then a student at the Sait Lake high school, yearned for an outdoor life, and went to Montana to seek employment on one of the many cattle ranches of the State. It didn't take him long to find work, and he took a position on the ranch of Hillhouse Raymond. The farm is noted in its way, noted for the thoroughbred horses and cattle of which its owner made a specialty, and the hoy found interesting as well as remunerative employment there.

Had Confidence of Employer.

Years passed by, young Lane was pushed ahead, and was finally made foreman of the Raymond farm. That he held the confidence and love of his employer was known to all the ranch hands, but to just what extent probably none of them dreamed. Some two months ago Mr. Raymond died. He was a bachelor, and the question naturally was asked, what would become of his property. One sister lived in Virginia City, and the supposition was that his estate would go to her.

Left Property to Lanes.

When the will was filed for probate, however, it was found that after bequeathing $1000 to his sister, and smaller sums to other relatives, the splendid farm, with its houses and burns and implements, and 500 head of thoroughbred lorses and cattle were left to Harry Lane and his two sisters, the former receiving a one-half interest; the latter a one-fourth interest each. This will was contested, but the court has decided in favor of the Lanes, and there is likely to be no further litigation.

Live in Salt Loke

Live in Salt Lake.

The Lanes have made their home in Salt Lake for a number of years. Both the girls are graduates of the Collegiate institute, and both are connected with the public school system of the city as teachers. Miss Ethel is a teacher in the Hamilton school, and Miss Vera is at the head of the free kindergarten in the Union school. They reside with their mother at the corner of Fifth East and Third South streets.

Have Little to Say.

They were very relicent about the matter last evening and declined to give matter last evening, and declined to give any information concerning it. They admitted, however, that Mr. Raymond had willed some property to their brother, but were of the opinion that the matter had not been settled. But information received from another source is to the effect that the case has been settled in favor of the young man and his two sisters, and their host of friends in this city will hasten to congratulate them on their good fortune.

FORMER GAVE A DANCE WITHOUT CONSENT LATTER

Result Two Presidents Are Under Suspension Until the 8th of January.

In their fight for the privilege of giving ances without first securing consent from the faculty the amusement committee of the students of the Latter-day Saints university went down to defeat yesterday afternoon in the last encounter of a lengthy struggle. As a result Class Presidents Anderson and Cram have been suspended from college until January 8 Their classmates, who at first revolted against the action of the faculty and proposed to go on a strike, have been paci-fied and to all practical intents and pur-poses the battle is over.

Cause of Row.

The trouble happened in this way. There is a rule at the college that any There is a rule at the college that any classes or organizations must notify and get the consent of the faculty amusement committee before giving dances outside and away from the college. This order has been made so that there will be no conflicts in school entertainments. That is the explanation made by the faculty. In spite of this regulation the students of the commercial classes went ahead and made preparations for a dance without giving the amusement committee any notification.

Asked to Explain. When news of the approaching event came to the cars of the faculty the presidents of the classes were immediately called on the classes were immediately called on the carpet for an explanation. They were ordered, after a hearing, to call the dance off. This the presidents said they could not do as the hall had been reated the music hired and other incidental arrangements completed. But the faculty insited.

Defied the Committee.

The presidents submitted the matter to their classmates for a decision and by them it was voted that the dance be given in spite of the order of the faculty amusement committee. And so last Friday evening the students of the commercial department, with their fair partners and friends, gathered in the Twentlieth ward amusement hall. They danced and drank punch to their hearts' content.

Two Presidents Suspended.

Two Presidents Suspended.

On the following Monday the two presidents were summoned before the faculty amusement committee. The case was thoroughly gone into. Next day the college faculty gathered in solemn conclave, heard the report of the committee, and, upon its recommendation, decided to suspend the two presidents for insubordination and willful disobedience of college regulations. It is held by the faculty that the presidents made no effort to persuade the class members from giving the dance, but rather encouraged them to stick together and push the undertaking to a finish.

Students Indignant

Students Indignant.

However, when the students heard of the suspension of their presidents they became thoroughly indiginant. Tuenday afternoon they ract, passed resolutions to the effect that they were as much re-sponsible for the giving of the dance as the presidents and voted to leave the school with their presidents if the sus-pension decrees were enforced.

Peace Council Held.

Things remained in this critical condi-tion until the indignant students and faculty meet in a peace council yesterday afternoon. After a lengthy session the faculty persuaded the students to their view of the situation. At any rate the students admitted that their presidents, after having had all the facts explained to them, should not have urged the giv-ing of the dance. The students finally decided to remain at college in spite of the fact that their presidents will be given an involuntary vacation until January 8.

Pertinent Question Asked.

At the present time practically all dances and entertainments at the Latter-day Saints college are given by the faculty amusement committee. The money made from such amusements goes into the general amusement fund of the college Independent students of the college are now anking the pertinent question: Does the faculty object to students giving dances since the money made does not go into the fund which helps to swell Joseph F. since the money made does not go into the fund which helps to swell Joseph F's tithing?

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO FVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play-when in health -and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, be-cause they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

the Platform.

After what the judges pronounced the best preliminary debate held in the history of the University of Utah, Dan Alexander, Percy J. Goddard and John Jenson were selected to represent Utah in the interstate debate with the University of Colorado, which will be held during the early part of January. Dale H. Parke was chosen first alternate. All the speakers showed a thorough knowledge of the subject and manifested ability in handling their arguments.

The debate was held during chapel hour, and so great was the interest in the contest that the students turned out en masse to hear the debaters. Yesterday was the first time a preliminary debate has ever been held in chapel, but it will not be the last time. In every respect the experiment proved a splendid success, and from now on it is safe to predict that the final of the preliminary debates will be held before the students in general assembly.
